

AVALANCHE SWEEPS CARS INTO CANYON

SIX PERSONS BELIEVED TO HAVE LOST LIVES IN SNOW SLIDE

Two Cars of Great Northern Train
Are Swept Down Mountainside—
Four Bodies Have Been Recovered—Two Others Are Missing.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 22.—Early tonight four bodies had been recovered from the day coach of the west bound Great Northern, Cascade Limited train, two cars of which were struck by an avalanche near Corcoran station, on the west slope of the Cascade mountains, and carried down the mountain side today.

The bodies recovered were those of Bert Kirkman, Sheridan, Wyo.; W. F. Carter, East Vancouver, B. C.; Edward Batterman and baby, Wenatchee, Wash. A ten year old son of Mr. Batterman is missing, and it is feared he is dead. Still another passenger, name unknown, has not been found. The railroad company officials say the total list of dead will not exceed six. Fifteen passengers were injured, none seriously, except Ernest Smith of Spokane, a boy. The injured were taken to Seaside, a few miles below Corcoran, and cared for by physicians.

Train Crew Is Safe.
None of the train crew or dining car employees was killed. The train was held at Corcoran by a small slide. When the track was about cleared, an avalanche broke from the mountain, and caught the dining car and day coach. They went down the mountain side like chips, and the dining car was destroyed. One dead and three injured were extricated from it and a charred body remained while rescuers devoted their efforts to the other victims. Believed All Points Protected.
Concrete snow sheds were erected on the approaches to the Cascade tunnel following the tragedy of Feb. 28th, 1910, when two passenger trains were swept from the track by a snow slide near the scene of the present accident. Railroad engineers believed all points liable to be reached by a slide had been protected.

Peter Saver of Leavenworth, Wash., was in the smoking car when the avalanche struck the train. At first he thought there had been a collision. The car began to rise, he said, and all the passengers rushed to the front to get out. He looked out of the window and saw the chair car and dining car tumble over. The dining car turned over once, slid many feet and then burst into flame. All those escaping injury rushed to rescue the passengers buried in the snow.

Thrown Fifty Feet Into Snow.
Miss Fern Murdock, young school teacher of Cashmere, Wash., was in the end of the chair car and was thrown down the mountain side fifty feet, into snow up to her neck.

Two of Batterman Family Survive.
Mrs. Edward Batterman of Wenatchee with her husband and three children was on her way to Oregon to attend the funeral of her mother. She was in the lavatory warming a bottle of milk for her eight months old baby when the slide hit the chair car. The bottle broke, severely cutting her. She was pinned fast in the car by debris and it was forty minutes after an opening was cut into the car before she was extricated. Her husband and baby were found dead, the baby clasped in its father's arms. Her ten year old son is missing. The third child escaped unhurt.

M. J. Costello assistant traffic manager of the Great Northern was shaving in the parlor car but escaped unhurt.

Car Hangs Suspended Over Canyon.
Several passengers in the sleeping car were slightly hurt when the front end of the car was thrown around and hung suspended over the canyon. In their hurry to escape many passengers fled partly dressed and huddled together were wrapped in blankets until relief arrived. Another snowslide east of Corcoran today took over several hundred feet of snowshed.

EUROPEAN MILITARY OPERATIONS APPEAR TO BE AT STANDSTILL

Fighting Is not Reported on Any of the Major Fronts or from Montenogro—No Changes in Positions of Various Forces.

On none of the major fronts in Europe are notable military operations in progress so far as official reports show. Not even from Montenogro have there come additional reports of fighting, following the indirect advice on Friday asserting the hostilities had been resumed after rejection of peace terms offered by Austria.

The Montenogrin situation remains somewhat clouded, in view of the conflicting statements that come respectively from Teutonic and entente allied quarters. Vienna reports that the Montenogrians are proceeding with the laying down of their arms, as was agreed upon, but that the difficulties of communications, together with other factors, are making the process a slow one.

On the other hand there come repeated denials from Montenogrin sources that the Montenogrians have capitulated, one official statement from Rome even asserting that no negotiations preliminary to peace with Austria were ever entered into.

From the northern front in Russia to Bessarabia there are no changes in positions of the various forces. According to official reports indications are that the Russians again have ceased their attacks on the Austrians near the southern end of the line, while Berlin mentions only artillery activity in sectors where German troops are holding the front.

The Franco-Belgian front is undergoing a period of calm which probably is to be explained by the seasonal conditions. There are frequent outbreaks by the artillery on both sides, however, several such being mentioned in the current official statements. Berlin mentioning the shelling of German positions and villages behind the lines between the Moselle and the Vosges, while Paris apparently describes the same series of artillery operations as directed against provision trains and groups of hostile troops.

The defeat of the Turks by the Russian army of the Caucasus reported officially by Petrograd is commented upon in news dispatches from the Russian capital as an event looked upon as important, as it caused the retirement of the Turkish forces to Erzerum, which is considered endangered by the Russian success. It even is held that the result may be favorable to the British operations in Mesopotamia, as the Turks may have to withdraw forces thence to aid in the defense of Erzerum.

CHICAGO LOOP BANDIT IS IDENTIFIED AS KANSAS CONVICT

Man Who Killed Policeman Identified as William LaTrasse—May Have Fled to Toledo.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—The bandit who held up the office of Thomas Cook & Son here yesterday was the object of widespread, but fruitless search today. Detectives uncovered no definite clues as to his whereabouts or that of his woman companion. Chief of Detectives Hunt interviewed additional witnesses today and was confirmed in his opinion that the man wanted is William LaTrasse, a robber who broke out of the Kansas penitentiary a few months ago.

Ernest L. Walsh, cashier, and Edward Stone, manager of the office from which the bandit escaped with $300, identified a photograph of LaTrasse as that of the robber, who, in escaping, shot and killed Policeman Bror A. Johnson after wounding Walsh.

Hunt did not abandon hope that something might come of the clue pointing to Toledo as the hiding place of the fugitives. He received a telegram tonight stating that a man and a woman answering to the description of the pair wanted were seen to leave a train there last night and that they were being traced.

CONGRESSMEN DEBATE SHACKLEFORD BILL

GOOD ROAD MEASURE SUPPORTED BY COUNTRY DISTRICT LAWMAKERS

City Statesmen Opposed to Giving Farmers Good Highways—Provisions Barring Japanese Laborers, Hindus and Chinese Written Into Immigration Bill—Other Washington News.

SATURDAY IN CONGRESS

Not in session. Meets Monday.

House.

Met at noon.
General debate was continued on the Shackleford bill to appropriate $25,000,000 federal aid to states for highway construction.

Immigration committee considered literacy test provision of immigration bill.

Insular committee considered the Philippine bill without action.

Immigration committee decided to incorporate in pending immigration bill a provision barring Hindus as well as Chinese immigrants and restricting Japanese immigration.

Lever bill for license and inspection of warehouse favorably reported.

Adjourned at 4:38 p. m. until noon Monday.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Fifty-five minute speeches on the Shackleford $25,000,000 good roads bill, evenly divided between city congressmen who oppose it and those from the country districts who support it were delivered in the house today and more will be heard on Monday. The money would be apportioned to all states, conditional upon local co-operation.

"We don't want to appropriate a lot of money for roads that probably will run from country depots to farmers' houses," was the way Representative Magee of New York epitomized the opposition. "The great objection of the opponents to this bill is that it would not provide peacock highways running from ocean to ocean for automobilists," Representative Thompson of Oklahoma replied.

Many opponents of the measure declared the proposed appropriation should be applied to the preparedness expenditures. Good highways are necessary for the transportation of troops was the reply.

Would Bar Brown and Yellow Race.
Drastic restriction would be thrown about the immigration of Japanese into the United States and both Hindus and Chinese virtually would be barred from the country by a provision that has been written into the immigration bill to be reported to the house next week by the immigration committee.

The new features relating to immigrants from Japan would have their most far reaching effect, in the expectation of committee members, in shutting off effectually the influx of Japanese laborers whose competition with American labor on the Pacific coast has aroused a pronounced anti-Asiatic sentiment. As agreed upon tentatively by the committee, the exclusion section includes a paragraph barring "Hindus and all persons of the Mongolian or yellow race, and the Malay or brown race."

Both the Asiatic exclusion section and the literacy test provision of the bill are expected to precipitate a vigorous debate when the measure comes up in the house. The requirement for a literacy test has caused the failure of three previous immigration bills thru presidential veto.

HOG SHIPMENTS BREAK RECORDS

Approximately 300,000 Hogs Have Been Received at National Stock Yards This Month.

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 22.—More hogs have been received at the National Stock Yards here during the first twenty-two days of this month than during any entire month in the history of the yards, it was announced tonight. The receipts to date aggregate approximately 300,000 which is about 100,000 more than came in the corresponding period in 1915. Dealers say the record breaking receipts are due to the large corn crops through the central west last year. So great has been the supply that three local packing houses have employed 700 extra men.

MULATTO ALLEGED TO HAVE FORCED WOMAN TO FLEE WITH HIM

Serious Charge Made Against Former Employer of California Hotel Proprietor.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 22.—Police officials throughout southern California have been asked to aid in a search for Mrs. Viola Hood, 25 years of age, wife of a San Diego hotel proprietor and who it is alleged, was forced by Raymond Dadds, a mulatto, to flee with him. Dadds, formerly a chauffeur in the employ of Hood, is alleged to have threatened to kill the Hoods and Mrs. Hood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. McPherson, if she did not accompany him.

Investigation by the local police has revealed that a woman answering the description of Mrs. Hood purchased a ticket for Los Angeles yesterday and five minutes later a negro who answered Dadds' description appeared with two suit cases. This morning Hood said he received a telegram from his wife at Los Angeles which read:

"I have taken the only course open to keep my family from death and destruction. Am leaving here right now. Will write again soon. Go to mamma, she will tell you all. Brace up; you cannot suffer more than I am or have been. Tell the people we had trouble and I left. With love, good-bye."

Dadds is six feet, five inches in height and about 30 years old. According to the police he was dismissed from Hood's employ for alleged thefts. After his discharge it is alleged he said he would "get even" with Hood. A number of letters threatening death to Mrs. Hood her husband and her parents are said to have been received by Mrs. Hood. Van Lee Hoel, husband of the woman, left late today for Los Angeles to assist in the search for his wife.

LEVEE BREAK FLOODS ENTIRE YUMA VALLEY

THOUSANDS OF ACRES INUNDED WHEN COLORADO RIVER BREAKS DIKE

City of Yuma is Covered by Four Feet of Water—Many Buildings Washed Away—Mayor of City Dies of Heart Failure During Excitement.

Yuma, Ariz., Jan. 22.—Yuma valley was covered to a depth of from one to four feet of water from the Colorado river tonight as a result of breaking of the government levees near here today. The city of Yuma was in darkness and without a supply of water as the plants supplying gas, electricity and water were flooded. A citizens' committee was maintaining order, Mayor Charles C. Moore having died of heart failure during the excitement which prevailed shortly after the levees gave way.

Business houses in the main street are flooded to a depth of four feet and many of the older buildings were washed away or badly damaged. Residents were sent to the hills.

Thousands of acres of agricultural land, both on the Arizona and California sides of the Colorado, were inundated. The irrigation canals were filled to the breaking point and it was feared serious damage would result to the gigantic irrigation project which supplies the Imperial valley of California.

Communication to the farming sections near here was cut off, preventing the receipt of definite reports on the situation in many communities. It was estimated early tonight that at least 100 houses in Yuma had been destroyed.

The office of the Yuma Examiner was flooded to a depth of four feet tonight. The building in which the Morning Sun was located is a complete loss. All reports from the upper Colorado river tonight declared that the water was falling, but the flood here showed no indications of receding.

IS BACKED BY GOOD "SPORTSMAN"

Banker Backing Weeghman in Baseball Deal Comes Thru With Coin When Needed.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Charles Weeghman, new owner of the Cubs, was asked today for the name of the banker who is one of his backers.

"Can't tell his name," said Weeghman, "but here is the kind of a sportsman he is. Last Thursday, as the moment for the transfer of the Cubs holdings drew near I found myself shy $75,000 of the $500,000 purchase price. The checks of two men who had taken stock had failed to arrive. So I called up the banker."

"I've got to have $75,000 in the next ten minutes," I told him. In eight minutes he appeared in my office with seventy-five one thousand dollar bills. Next morning the checks arrived by mail."

Weeghman confirmed a report that John R. Thompson, former city treasurer, who owns more lunch rooms than Weeghman does, had sent a check for $25,000 for Cub stock. Weeghman said he would try to accommodate him.

AMERICAN MINER REPORTS MEXICO OVERRUN WITH BANDITS

Relates an Account of the Blowing up of a Passenger Train With Loss of 23 Lives—Other Mexican News.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 22.—The state of Oaxaca, Mexico, is overrun with bandits who have been killing Americans, while carrying on a campaign of murder and plunder, despite every effort of the Carranza authorities to preserve order, according to an affidavit made by Andrew J. Trumbo of Los Angeles, a mining man who arrived here early today from Oaxaca, the capital of the state. At El Paso yesterday Trumbo related an account of the blowing up recently of a passenger train near Puebla with a loss of twenty-three lives.

"Twenty miles southwest of Ejutla, I saw the bodies of six men hanging to trees and I was told by Mexicans they were Americans," Trumbo stated tonight. "About a quarter of a mile further on I saw two more badly decomposed bodies hanging to a tree. I was told they also were Americans but I could not learn their names. The bodies all were too badly decomposed to attempt to identify any of them, or to obtain even a general description." Conditions became so unbearable that he could not remain in the Mexican state with his family. Trumbo declared in his statement in explaining his departure from Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 22.—Teodoro Prieto who says he is a major in the Villa army, appeared here today claiming that he had been sent to the border by Villa to say that Villa had nothing to do with the massacre of 18 foreigners at Santa Ysabel.

"Villa did not know of the tragedy for days afterward," said Prieto. "He instructed me to say he will execute the men responsible if they are caught, even if they prove to be his own men."

Villa was near El Ruico in the vicinity of Pearson, Chihuahua, when Prieto left him.

Wounded by Carranza Officer.
Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 22.—H. C. Tanner, a resident of this city, returned here tonight from Mexico City suffering from a bullet wound in his chest. The wound was inflicted by a Carranza officer, Tanner said, during a scuffle in a restaurant in Mexico City the night of January 1st.

He said he was dining with three companions. They were conversing in English. A member of a party of four Carranza officers approached him and upbraided him for using English, Tanner claims.

One of the officers thrust a revolver against his side, he says, and as they struggled for possession of the weapon another officer fired two shots. One of these struck him, Tanner says.

POLICE DISCOVER "BOMB FACTORY"

Much Dynamite and Fuse Is Found in Home in Chicago's Italian District.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Discovery of a box containing twenty sticks of dynamite and about one hundred feet of fuse in the home of Madolani Cisare here today led the police to believe they had uncovered a "bomb factory" for the use of so-called "Blackhanders."

When Cisare was seen running on the street, his face covered with blood, he was pursued by police and his home visited. Search of the place revealed the dynamite. What appeared to be the sawed off muzzle of a shotgun also was found. Cisare explained his wounds by saying he was "hammering a small round ball" which he had found, when it exploded. He claimed he did not know what it was.

NEW YORK STEAMER HAS NARROW ESCAPE

STEAMSHIP BRAZOS DAMAGED BY COLLISION WITH COASTING STEAMER

Able to Make Port Under Own Steam But With Jagged Hole Torn in Starboard Side—Carried 171 Passengers and Crew of 130.

New York, Jan. 22.—The New York and Porto Rico steamship Brazos, with 171 passengers and a crew of 130 on board arrived at her pier in Brooklyn at nine o'clock tonight with a jagged hole in her starboard side, after a collision late today 23 miles southeast of Scotland Light with the coasting steamer Suffolk of the Coastwise Transportation company of Boston. The Suffolk also returned to port and anchored off Quarantine.

The Brazos came to port under her own steam and officials of the company said repairs probably would be completed so she could sail again for San Juan, Porto Rico on Monday. Captain H. W. Barstow expressed the belief that he could have made San Juan safely without turning back but thought it best to take no chances with so large a passenger list and so many men in the crew.

Steaming along slowly in a dense fog at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon, persons aboard the Brazos were startled by the shriek of a whistle nearby. Five minutes later the hull of the Suffolk loomed up and she crashed head-on into the Brazos' side. The coasting vessel, undamaged, so far as Captain Barstow could see, veered off and stood by until notified that the Brazos needed no assistance. There was no panic on the Brazos.

ENDORSE GARRISON'S EFFORTS

Washington, Jan. 22.—An endorsement of Secretary Garrison's efforts toward enlargement of the nation's military forces was voted today by the National Security League, with the reservations that the regular mobile army should be even greater than that contemplated in the war department plan and that adequate national defense would depend ultimately upon universal obligatory military training and service. A greater building program for the navy than has been outlined by the navy department was urged as essential in another resolution adopted.

Witness Asserts Str. Eastland Was Designed to Carry 500 Passengers, Not Excursion Crowds.

He testified that he was told by the first owners of the vessel that they wanted a fast ship for transporting fruit from South Haven to Chicago and he designed a boat to make 20 miles an hour, capable of carrying 50 passengers.

Washington, Jan. 22.—President Wilson, cruising down the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay on the yacht Mayflower with Mrs. Wilson, remained secluded tonight. The Billions of War Debt.

President of the University of Wisconsin in a Chicago address declared that European war debts call for excessive taxation, repudiation or a combination of the two. This statement prefaced others calling attention to the vast industrial changes which have occurred in the countries at war and which are constantly occurring. In Germany the government controls the price and distribution of food, and this supervision of the rights of citizens has been carried along other lines in large degree. The people are just becoming accustomed to rules and regulations which formerly they would have considered as very offensive and an infringement upon their private rights. The question is, what will happen after the war, whether there will be further development along these same lines or a revulsion of feeling which will result in the tearing down of government regulations rather than a submission to them.

These matters are of interest here in America because they will have a direct relationship to the commercial affairs of Europe and the United States. The huge debts which are being piled up in Europe are also of great interest here because this country is certain later on to feel their effect. The national debt of France at the end of 1915 was $10,514,000,000, and of Germany was $7,275,000,000. These figures do not include the so-called local debts of the nations, which at the beginning of the war were $4,855,000,000 for Germany and $1,179,000,000 for France. These figures are significant when it is recalled that the total debt of the U. S. at the end of the Civil War, which was at that time the greatest to which any nation had ever been subject, was $2,758,000,000. So at the present time two or three of the European nations each have debts four times as great as that of the U. S. at the close of the Rebellion.

The Church and the College.

Doctor Thomas Nicholson, corresponding secretary of the board of education of the Methodist church, is well known in Jacksonville because of several visits here and from the further fact of the interest he has taken in Illinois Woman's college. He was a speaker in Chicago before the fifth annual meeting of the council of church boards of education, representing fourteen denominations. The council has undertaken to "create a new sense of the value of the religious element in education" and this was the theme of Dr. Nicholson's address. He pointed out that the colleges need the churches and the churches need the colleges, meaning that religion and education should go hand in hand. It has been often accounted one of the defects of modern education that religion was given a wholly secondary place.

How Hoskin's education's bad; he sidestepped school when but a lad, and now he keeps the language bent; he says, "I seen" and "I have went." When he orate, poor Grammar groans, and has an ache in all its bones, and cultured people rend their hair, and beat their breasts and weep and swear. Yet Hoskin thinks as tho all might gents, who tortured people when they spied, and make of language an ordeal, are sure they wear, with graceful ease, the mantle of Demosthenes.

In some institutions many of the faculty have been men who rather prided themselves on the pronounced liberality of their views along religious lines. Dr. Nicholson makes the good point that the church needs the college because if religion is to be preserved, the conviction of its worth must be the result of confidence that it is consistent with human experience and adaptable to knowledge just as knowledge increases with the passing of time.

PLANNING FOR GOOD ROADS BANQUET IN FEBRUARY

Joint Committee Held Meeting Saturday—Highway Board representatives from Illinois and Missouri Expected.

A meeting of the joint committee representing the road commissioners and clerks' association and the department of rural affairs of the Chamber of Commerce, appointed to arrange for the annual good roads dinner, was held Saturday morning in the directors' room of the Farmers State Bank & Trust company. It was decided to hold the dinner at some date to be chosen in the last two weeks of February. It is the expectation that S. E. Bradt, secretary of the Illinois highway commission, E. H. Piepmeyer, highway engineer for the commission, F. W. Bufum, highway commissioner of Missouri, and A. L. Carter, Medora banker, will be the speakers. Members of the committee present were A. L. French, Thomas Worthington, C. D. Irlam, F. J. Heini, John Snyder, John Stice and Carl Weber. Richard Leake and L. R. Craig were also in the conference.

After some discussion as to the place and time for holding the dinner, all the arrangements details were designated to a committee consisting of C. D. Irlam, A. L. French, F. J. Heini and John Snyder. The committee is almost identical in membership with the one which arranged for the successful dinner held last year. At that time there were 165 persons in attendance and the hope is that at least 200 will be present for the 1916 dinner. It is planned to have a good menu served at a price which will not bar anyone from attendance.

Mr. Carter of Medora is an officer of the Burlington Way association and in the few minutes which will be allotted to him is expected to say something about the Burlington Way plans for this year, together with facts about the annual meeting which is to be held later on in this city. It is planned to have a meeting of officers and directors of the Burlington Way association later in the day on the date of the good roads dinner.

Mr. Piepmeyer, who as stated, is the highway engineer for the Illinois commission, is said to have a more accurate knowledge of road oiling than any other person in Illinois, and wrote the bulletin which the state commission recently issued on that subject. It is expected that his address will refer largely to road oiling work, in view of the fact that the authorities here contemplate some extensive oiling work this year.

NICHOLS PARK ITEMS.

Work is to begin as soon as conditions will permit, grading will be done on the south side on both sides the new culvert across the valley between the west and east parts. The adjacent land along the way above the arm of the lake is to be suitably drained and reclaimed which will add much to the looks and efficiency of the park.

The driveways on both sides of the new culvert are to be relieved of the square corners and curves introduced making travel for both horse vehicles and automobiles more convenient and easy.

The playground apparatus is to be renewed as far as means will permit and no more wooden machines and apparatus will be used but metal and indestructible material will be employed.

A new arrangement of the playground is contemplated also. As it is now the ground is next to the driveway and children have to cross it to get to the well for a drink and the plan is to bore a well on the west side of the driveway and move all the apparatus to the same side, set out some trees beyond the ground to the border of the lake to supply needed shade.

The park board is to meet Monday night to formulate rules and conditions on which the ball park will be let the present year and all who want the privilege will do well to hand in their application to Secretary Brennan.

The seats and tables belonging to the park are to be painted as soon as weather will permit.

Much of the shrubbery about the pavilion has grown to such dimensions that it is too thick to thrive and look well and a lot of it is to be transplanted.

Complaint has been made by the utilities commission of shrubbery at the entrance to the park in that the bushes obstruct the view of an approaching train from the south. A careful examination of the place discloses very little obstruction of this kind but the board is always inclined to be reasonable and an possible cause for complaint from this difficulty is soon to be removed.

TO ORGANIZE RED CROSS RELIEF WORK HERE.

A number of Jacksonville young women have taken the initial steps for the organization of a county committee to solicit funds for the work of the Red Cross society in carrying relief to wounded soldiers in the European war. It is proposed to send out a letter of appeal to 1,600 or more persons resident in this county, asking them to contribute $1 each for this work.

If the contributor desires he may designate for what special army the money shall be used. Most contributions will no doubt be given without any expression of preference for relief, the people realizing that the work of the Red Cross society knows no race or nationality in the effort made to alleviate pain and distress.

The personnel of the organization committee has not been announced but it is understood that the women who have started the good work have secured the consent of C. A. Johnson and Ralph I. Dunlap to take an active part with them in the movement.

Don't overlook those big suit and overcoat values at $10, $15 and $17.50 at J. W. LANE'S, clothier.

Sherman's Famous Saying

T. A. Weisner, late captain of the 4th Illinois infantry whose home is at Rockbridge, Ill., in a recent communication to the editor of the Globe-Democrat, testifies that he was present when General Sherman made the celebrated remark that "War is hell." For some time a discussion has been going on in the Globe-Democrat as to whether or not General Sherman ever really made the remark which has been so often quoted since. Some communications have been presented claiming that the statement was not original with the general. Capt. Weisner's testimony is convincing since he remembers distinctly the time and place. A number of residents from this vicinity are acquainted with him and served in the 4th Illinois. Capt. Weisner's statement is as follows: In your issue of Sunday, January 6, you seem to doubt that Gen. Sherman ever made the remark, "War is hell."

In or about February, 1864, Gen. Sherman with the Sixteenth and Seventeenth corps, left the vicinity of Vicksburg, Miss., for a raid east to Meridian.

On the march the Confederate cavalry were very annoying and kept up a continual "sniping" at our advance. It was necessary to keep one regiment on each side of the road deployed as skirmishers, and they were fired on from behind every house or other hiding place. The advance guards were ordered to fire on all such parties. About forty miles east of Jackson, Miss., the Fourteenth Illinois infantry was the advance guard, and one morning early we were fired into by a squad of cavalry. Our regiment and a cavalry regiment fired at them and a woman ran out of a house in the line of fire with a babe in her arms. A bullet struck her in the breast, killing her instantly. As we ran up Gen. Sherman came up, jumped off his horse and knelt down by the woman. With tears streaming down his face, he exclaimed, "Oh, God, war is hell!" Then to the cavalry he said, waving his hand, "Move on."

In 1913 Capt. Brown of Charleston, Ill., was in Rockbridge, Ill., where he and I talked about the war. He asked me what was the worst thing I saw during the war. I told him of this incident. He looked surprised and said to me: "You certainly did not see that, for I with my cavalry company, was there and heard Gen. Sherman make the remark, and it was our cavalry company that he told to move on."

Capt. Brown told me that after the war he went to St. Louis and asked Gen. Sherman about the three children of that woman, and was told that the general sent them to Cincinnati, Ohio, to school; that the two girls were living there and married well, and that the boy was sent to West Point and was then an officer in the United States army.

At the time I was orderly sergeant of Company D, Fourteenth Illinois Infantry. T. A. Weisner. Late Captain Fourteenth Illinois Infantry.

NEW PLATFORM AT WABASH

A special platform has just been completed at the Wabash freight house designed for the unloading and loading of automobiles, carriages and heavy farm machinery. The platform is 20 by 12 feet, with an incline at one end 12 feet long. In the past there have often been delays in unloading of freight of this class because of the necessity of waiting until cars were placed. The new platform will thus provide a special convenience and will make all the more open available for the regular freight business. W. L. Simpson, agent for the company, said yesterday that the platform had long been needed but it had not been possible to make the improvement until the present time.

J. J. Clark was in the city yesterday from Arcadia. He said he found the roads generally in a bad condition.

MERRILL ABSTRACT COMPANY WILL BE INCORPORATED

Business to Be Continued in Same Offices Under Management of George H. Busey.

An application was filed with the secretary of state Saturday, asking authority to incorporate the Merrill abstract company of this city. The incorporators will be Mrs. Ellen K. Merrill, George H. Busey and J. W. Walton, and the coporation will be organized upon the receipt of the formal papers.

As previously mentioned, Mrs. Merrill in the settlement of her husband's estate acquired the abstract office, and as it was her desire to continue the business it was decided to incorporate. Mrs. Merrill retains the controlling interest in the business, which will be under the management of George H. Busey, who was for a number of years in Mr. Merrill's employ. During that period he had the entire confidence of Mr. Merrill and entire reliance was placed upon the accuracy of his work. By this means Mr. Busey obtained a thorough knowledge of the business which will now be valuable to him in his management work. In the course of the years Mr. Busey came in touch with patrons of the office and they will be glad to know that such arrangements have been made that he will remain in charge of the office as manager and that he is also a stockholder in the company. The abstract records in the Merrill office are of a modern kind and are thoroughly up to date.

MRS. ELVIRA PETERS DIES AT HOME OF HER DAUGHTER

Passes Away After Illness of Several Weeks at Residence of Mrs. George Brunk, North of Concord.

Mrs. Elvira Peters died Saturday night at 10:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Brunk, north of Concord. Death came at the close of an illness four weeks in length and as Mrs. Peters was more than 70 years old her life was despaired of several days ago.

Mrs. Peters was a resident of Jacksonville until about two months ago, when she went to live with the family of her daughter. Born and reared near Ipava she came to Jacksonville when she and her husband, William Peters, decided to retire from the farm. Mr. Peters preceded his widow in death about three years.

Besides Mrs. Brunk there survives one daughter, Mary, residing in California. A son, Louis Peters, lives in Rosedale, Kan., and another, Oliver Peters, makes his home in Beardstown. A third son, Edward Peters, formerly had employment in a panitiorium in the Grand Opera House block.

Announcement of the funeral will be made at a later time.

CARD GAME RESULTS IN MURDER

Quincy, Ill., Jan. 22.—William M. Knight was shot and instantly killed by Clem Pigg at Augusta, Ill., 30 miles north of here, at ten o'clock tonight following a quarrel over a game of cards. The shooting took place near the Burlington depot, the revolver reports being heard by passengers on the northbound Burlington train. Pigg disappeared after the murder and the authorities had the passenger train searched at Colechester on the theory that he had boarded the train immediately after the shooting. The search, however, was fruitless.

Pigg came to Augusta during the summer months from Kentucky. Knight was an organizer for the Knights and Ladies of Security.

WINCHESTER IS DEFEATED SATURDAY NIGHT BY CHAPIN Winchester high school basketball team met defeat at the hands of the five from Chapin in a rather one-sided contest in Winchester Saturday night. The score stood 24 to 15 in Chapin's favor at the close of the game. The Chapin team has given good account of itself this season, defeating teams from several larger schools.

Tholen, it is understood, will enter Jacksonville high school the second semester. He has been playing an excellent game at center thruout the season and the Chapin players will be very sorry to lose him from the team which has been together for four years. The Chapin lineup for the game last night was Antrobus, captain, and Williams, forwards; Tholen, center; Anderson and Bayles, guards.

HARMON WILL GO TO SOUTHERN COLLEGE

ILLINOIS COLLEGE COACH HAS FINE OFFER FROM CLEMSON, SOUTH CAROLINA.

Eight Hundred Students There Will Give Him a Larger Field for Work Along Line in Which He is so Well Qualified—Marked Success in Position Here.

It became known Saturday that Coach W. T. Harmon who has been at the head of athletics at Illinois college for the past five years would probably leave at the close of the school year and accept a position as coach at the South Carolina Agricultural college at Clemson. The contract has not as yet been signed but the offer is such a desirable one that it is difficult to see how Coach Harmon can refuse it. It is said that Mr. Harmon will go to South Carolina within a few days and investigate the matter and probably give the authorities of the southern school a definite answer.

If Coach Harmon leaves Illinois it will bring regret to every friend of the college, tho all will unite in wishing the coach success in his new field. Coach Harmon regrets to sever his connection with Illinois college but feels that the new offer contains greater possibilities than could come to him in a small school.

The loss of Coach Harmon to Illinois comes thru Dr. F. H. H. Calhoun, a former member of the faculty of Illinois college and a former mentor of Coach Harmon when he was taking part in athletics at Illinois in his student days. On a visit here recently Prof. Calhoun told Coach Harmon that the contract with the coach of the football team at the South Carolina school expired this year. He asked Harmon if he would consider an offer for the position. Harmon replied in the affirmative. On his return to Clemson where the college is located Prof. Calhoun took the matter up with the authorities and was appointed with Coach Gant of the baseball squad a committee of two to select a coach for football, basketball and track. They got into communication with Harmon and all of the negotiations are completed except the signing of the contract.

A Larger Field for Work.

Coach Harmon will have charge of the football, basketball and track squads. The school has an enrollment of 800 students and there is said to be a plentiful supply of football material. The new position is a most desirable one in that Coach Harmon will have no teaching to do, his entire time being devoted to his coaching duties.

The college is a member of the Southern Conference of Colleges of the southeastern states and comprises all of the state universities in that section. Freshmen are barred from playing by the three year rule.

When Harmon leaves Illinois college the school will have lost the most popular coach the school has ever had. That is saying a great deal for during her athletic career Illinois has had the benefit of some great coaching. When Harmon went to Illinois in 1910 the school was barely on the map from an athletic standpoint. Harmon's teams had to take some hard knocks during the first two years. He persevered, however, and three years ago began to make his opponents sit up and take notice. In 1914 he had a team that probably would have won the Little Sixteen championship in football but for a number of accidents in the middle of the season that put out some of the best men. In 1915 Harmon came into his own. He had a veteran team and for once the luck broke his way. The men kept in the pink of condition and fortunately did not meet with accidents. The result was an unbroken string of victories and against the strongest teams Illinois displayed her best work. It is doubtful if a better football game will ever be witnessed on Illinois field than that between Illinois and Millikin.

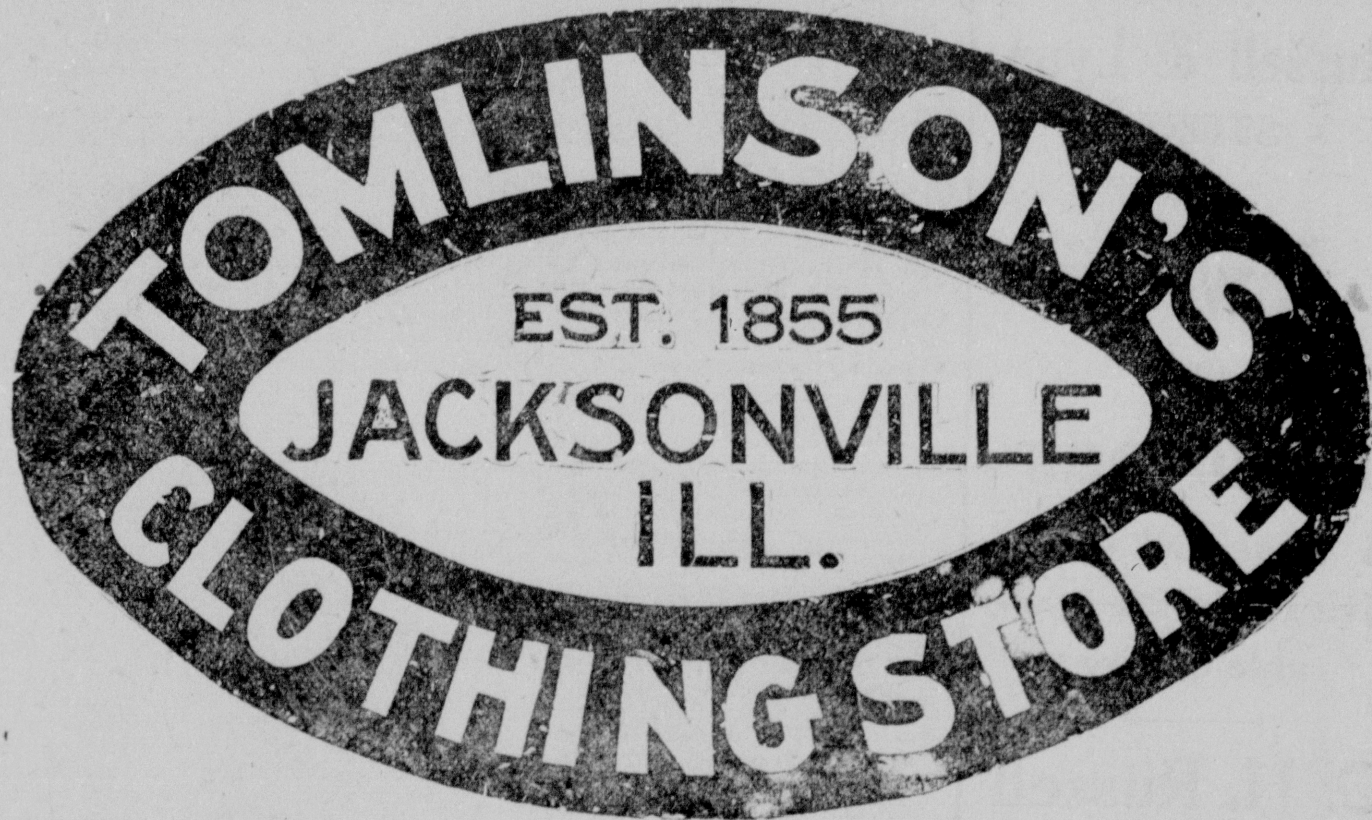

W. T. Harmon or "Bill", as he was known to his college chums when in school, was a student at Whipple academy about the year 1900. He began playing on the varsities. He began playing on the varsity team in 1903 at end. He played at end for three years, being used at times at half back. He played one end in 1905 when his brother R. E. "Red" Harmon played the other end. Bill Harmon was a great end. Probably one of the best Illinois ever had. He not only was a good football player but he also gained his letter on the baseball team playing first base. He was a left hand hitter and a good one. He also was a member of the track team, doing the running high jump.

Harmon graduated from Illinois in the class of 1907. The following fall he went to St. Mary's college in Kentucky as coach. In 1910 he was appointed coach at Illinois. As has been said athletics were at a low ebb at Illinois at that time. What Coach Harmon has accomplished is now history. He has put Illinois on the map in all branches of athletics and it will be a great loss to the old school if he decides to accept the position that has been offered to him.

In addition to winning football and track championships Harmon has also turned out some good football and basketball teams. So far this year his team has not lost a basketball game and his baseball teams also have been able to give a good account of themselves.

Kept up With Times.

During his years of coaching he has not permitted himself to get into a rut. On the contrary he has kept up with everything modern in sports. Especially is this true in football. In 1913 he took a course in football with Glen Warner, the famous coach of the Carlisle Indian team, now coaching at the University of Pittsburgh. In 1914 he went to Champaign and took a course in

FIRST ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF COUNTRY PRESS

Problems Will Be Considered at Three Days Session—Well Known Newspaper Men Will Make Addresses.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 22.—The first annual conference on the Problems of the Country Press will be held at the University of Illinois on April 6, 7 and 8, according to announcements made tonight. The event was scheduled to take place last year at the time of the short course in agriculture, but it was postponed when the latter was cancelled because of the foot and mouth disease.

Dr. F. W. Scott, assistant professor, in English and H. F. Harrington, associate in journalism at the University will direct the course. Letters have been sent to one hundred or more prominent editors of the state asking them to make suggestions which will be helpful to all those who are to attend the short course. They have also been asked to suggest speakers and topics for round table discussions.

Among the men who probably will speak are James Keeley, editor of the Chicago Herald and James Schermerhorn, editor of the Detroit Times. They will discuss "Journalism as a Profession" probably on the opening night of the conference, that meeting being one of the series of general convocations being given during the year by the college of liberal arts and science. President James of the university will speak at another of the evening sessions.

The conference, according to university authorities, is a result of the rapid strides being made by the department of journalism at the University of Illinois. This state has been far behind other states in this line of work until this year, but it is hoped by faculty members that the conference will prove valuable to the newspaper men of the state as well as to the university.

The Herd Sire.

In the average herd of non-descripts, that is scrubs and so-called grades that are also scrubs, the sire may be a good deal more than half of the future herd provided he has the power inherent to transmit the good qualities of his dam, wranan, etc. We pay our money not merely for a bull, but we want to buy heredity and propentency or fixed good-blood qualities and the power of transmission. We cannot reasonably expect what we are looking for unless we know the blood line of our subject for several generations back and assure ourselves that the females in those blood lines were largely producers. The law that like begets like is of course en-erached upon by the law of variation, but if the variations for several generations have been in favor of higher production and stronger propentency we are justified in laying a good-sized bet on our selection as possessing the qualities desired. You say this is a difficult proposition. So it is, but who said farming was such an easy, simple and thoughtless project? The man who does not know. We live in the age of thinking and the thinker is the leader. L. L. W., in The Farmers' Review, Chicago.

Chicago Live Stock Market
Cattle Market Buoyant.

Good choice cattle continue scarce and buyers are much disappointed because they are not able to find enough of that kind to fill their orders. Most of the steers coming are scarcely better than medium in quality and many have hardly been warmed up. The main cause of this is said to be the high price of corn. This is particularly true in northern Iowa where most of corn got caught by the frost and had little feeding value. Stockmen in that territory have been compelled to buy feed or send their stock to market in an immature condition. Northern Illinois is largely in the same fix and the disposition on the part of the feeder is to send in their cattle prematurely. It has been a good many years since the proportion of unfinished cattle is as great as at present and what makes it especially bad for the producer is that there is no outlet on stocker and feeder account

OBITUARY.

Mary Ann Dixon was born July 9, 1843 at Rockbridge, Illinois, and departed this life at the home of her daughter in Kansas City, Mo., January 15, 1916. When only four days of age she had the misfortune of losing her mother and was brought up in the home of foster parents. In her girlhood she endured the hardships of pioneer life. At the age of 16 years, on March 1, 1860, she was united in marriage with Edward L. Woodriddle. To this union three daughters were born: Elma J., Armlida A. and Lula E. The oldest and youngest survive and ministered to her in her last illness.

In 1861 her husband enlisted in Co. F, 12th Ill. Cavalry, 12th regiment and served until the close of the war. During all this time she suffered all the hardships of a brave soldier's wife and lost the little daughter, Armlida.

Her husband passed away January 15, 1882, after which she with her youngest daughter made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander in Waverly, Illinois. In 1894 she was united in marriage to William C. Waters who passed away six years later. Since that time she has divided her because of quarantine. Strictly choice steers are quotable up to $9.85 but few sold this week above $9 and consequently that end of the market is higher while the bottom end is 10@15c lower.

Sellers here believe that the feeder could make decidedly more money by holding on longer and feeding to a better finish. Talks with a good many of the big shippers reveals the fact that the average feeder believes he can make more by letting the cattle go and selling the corn.

Criticize Government Report.

Traders here are inclined to threaten the government livestock report much as a joke. Those in close touch with feeding conditions say that there are fully 25 per cent less cattle on feed now than a year ago and in territory east of Chicago the decrease is put by many at 40 per cent. The opinion is that the report is very much over estimated all along the line. Sheep men say there are 40 per cent less sheep in the country than a year ago particularly on the ranges. High prices have resulted in close marketing not only in the west but in the central states.

Hog Market Goes Up.

Moderate receipts of hogs this week developed a decided advance in prices and the top reached on Wednesday $7.75 which is as high as anything sold since last October. As soon as pressure is removed the market quickly rises to a higher level indicating that buyers are very anxious to get the hogs at the prices Little packers are doing the biggest business in their history and their output is only limited by their capacity. Sellers are of the opinion that the big runs are about over and that the hogs are in stronger hands and will be marketed on a more conservative basis from now on. Hogs are a good dollar higher than a month ago with predictions that they will go up a dollar more in an other month.

Lambs up to $11.15.

Lamb prices hit a new high level this week when the top reached $11.15. Packers tried hard to hold the market below the $11 mark but were not able to do it. The higher lambs get the greater seems to be the demand and there is a big outlet for all that are coming. Most of the receipts are from Colorado and quality is uniformly good. Most of the lambs sold at $10.75@11.00, this week with the tendency strongly upward. Ewes are up to $7.75 and yearlings $9.50.

DAIRMEN OF STATE TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION THIS WEEK

Three-day Sessions at Carbondale of Interest to All Breeders of Dairy Cattle—Local Men to Attend.

The forty-second annual convention of the Illinois State Dairymen's association will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week in Carbondale and a program of interesting addresses on leading dairy subjects has been prepared. L. T. Potter, manager of the Jacksonville creamery, plans to attend, and it is probable that other Morgan dairymen will attend the convention sessions. There will be an exhibition of blooded dairy cattle during the convention, as well as an exhibition of dairy machinery and supplies, a corn show and demonstration of milk and cream testing.

An address on the interest of the town merchant in dairy farming by J. D. Jarvis of Lafayette, Ind., will sound a keynote in convention discussion. Prof. C. G. Hopkins of the University of Illinois, will speak Tuesday on "Restoring and Retaining Soil Fertility" and Prof. J. A. McLean, an authority from Massachusetts, will appear the same day with the topic, "Feed for Dairy Cows."

The relation of the banker to dairy development in Illinois will be the theme for discussion at a dairy supper Wednesday evening, prepared by ladies of the domestic science department of the Southern Illinois State Normal school. Among topics of addresses Thursday, the 27th, are "The Dairy Barn," by H. P. Irish, Farina; "Dairy Farming," T. A. Borman, editor of the Kansas City Farmer; "Market for Dairy Products," E. K. Slater, LaGrange; "Hog Raising, a Dairy Side Line," John Nelson, Peoria; "Silos and Ensilage," J. P. Mason, Elgin; "Good Dairy Rations," Prof. J. A. McLean; "Dairy Cow Demonstration," T. A. Borman.

AFTER SICKNESS

How to Recover Strength

So many Jacksonville people are asking how to recover their strength after sickness that we are publishing this information for their benefit.

After gripe, pleurisy, pneumonia or any illness what you need is new strength and richer blood.

The most certain way to get this is by taking Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation (without oil). It creates strength, improves the blood, sharpens the appetite and restores the entire system to a healthy robust condition.

North Adams, Mass.—"After a long illness of pneumonia, I was left in a weakened, delicate condition, and for a long time had searched for a body-builder and strength creator. I was attracted by an advertisement of Vinol and tried a bottle, and soon noticed a vast improvement. I continued its use for a while, and am now as able bodied and strong as any man in town." Samuel Wood, North Adams, Mass.

Try a bottle of Vinol. our money will be returned if it does not restore your vitality and strength.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today save a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full direction for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

PROMINENT LABOR MAN TESTIFIES

State Federation of Labor Official Makes Statement of Condition.

PRAISES TANLAC.

Prominent people in nearly every capacity, are daily testifying to the merits of Tanlac, the "Master Medicine" now being introduced in Jacksonville. Here is what John M. Irish, vice president of the state Federation of Labor, who resides at the Foy Hotel in Peoria, Ill., has to say about Tanlac and the benefit he derived from the use of the medicine.

"Tanalac has proved a wonderful remedy in my case. Previous to the time I obtained relief through this preparation, I suffered a great deal with my stomach, which put my whole system out of order. I became quite nervous and was unable to obtain any great amount of rest at night. It was impossible for me to eat heartily without feeling most uncomfortable afterwards. When I would get up in the morning there seemed to be a great load on my stomach, which made me feel sick all over. Finally I lost all appetite for food and nothing seemed to taste good to me.

"I was looking over the morning paper recently and noticed where a man who had stomach trouble had been benefited by Tanlac. I went to Saffell & Case, where the medicine is being sold in Peoria, and bought a bottle and began taking the medicine as directed. As I said before, the medicine has brought me great relief. I feel better in several ways. My appetite has returned and I can now eat a big meal without suffering the effects of indigestion. The old stuffy feeling that was such an annoyance to me has disappeared and I am able to obtain a good sleep at night. I seem to have new strength and my nerves are more quiet than heretofore. I think Tanlac is a good medicine for a trouble like mine and can recommend it to anyone who is suffering with a similar ailment."

Tanalac, the "Master Medicine", that brought such relief to Mr. Irish is now being sold in Jacksonville at Conner & Shreve.—Adv.

Walter Wheeler, Edward Deaton, James Mahon, George Coy and Arthur Swain were all down to the city yesterday from the region of Sinclair.

The man who is promoting the Mississippi Valley league seems to have hopes that his dreams will be realized. Walter L. Alser, general manager of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company, has received an offer to buy the league. There seems to be little hope of the organization of a league such as is proposed. In the first place the cities are not located so that the league could be made to pay financially. In the second place with cities like Springfield, Decatur and Bloomington giving up the baseball ghost conditions do not seem to be good for organizing of a new league.

We have always advocated the formation of an Illinois league and an Iowa league. There is the finest circuit in Illinois of any state in the union for the organizing of a paying league. Take, for instance, Quincy, Jacksonville, Springfield, Decatur, Danville, Bloomington, Peoria and possibly Rock Island or Moline would make an ideal league. There would be few big jumps. The one from Quincy to Danville possibly being the longest one. That, however, would not be any longer than the jump from Jacksonville to Waterloo in the old Central association. This would make a compact league and it would be a much better proposition from a financial standpoint than the old Three Eye league or the old Central association.

Perhaps some people will say that Jacksonville is not big enough to travel in the company of the cities named above. Let us go back a little. Jacksonville experienced her first league baseball in 1892. That year we were in a circuit with Joliet, Rockford, Evansville and cities of that caliber. We struck as long as any of the others and longer than some of them. As we remember, the league finally dwindled to a four club league and then gave up the ghost almost in August.

In 1891 we again ventured into league baseball. This time we went into the Western association with Lincoln and Omaha, Neb.; St. Joseph, Mo.; Rock Island, Peoria, Quincy and Des Moines, Ia. During that year and in 1892 we did not play Sunday baseball. Yet despite this fact we stood second in the point of attendance in 1894, Peoria being the leader. We believe with Sunday baseball that we could more than hold our own in a league with Springfield, Decatur, Peoria and the cities mentioned above. One thing is sure we have never yet given up and at no time has a ball player ever left the city with anything owing him.

Only one thing stands in the way of the organization of a new league in this section. That is the present unsettled condition of baseball. The settling of the differences between organized baseball and the Federal league, instead of clearing the situation, has mixed it up some. The dissolving of the Federal league will throw a lot of good players on the market. These players for the most part probably will go to the American association, Southern league, International league and the Pacific coast league. This means that players who were drafted to those leagues on account of the lack of material will slip back to leagues of a lower class. This means that players will go back clear down the line to the lowest class leagues. This situation means, it seems to us, a surplus of players on the market. In addition to this a number of leagues have gone out of existence in the past year. While there will be players a plenty the prospects for a good baseball year are not encouraging, especially for the minor leagues. It is probable that not many new leagues will be organized this year. We should be ready, however, and when the opportunity arises we should be ready to grasp it.

Not many people of this day remember Louie Bierbauer, who used to pasture with the old Philadelphia team in the days of Harry Stovey and others famous in the old days. Bierbauer played with Philadelphia in the latter eighties. He was originally a catcher, but played at second base most of the time for the Philadelphia. Bierbauer probably should be given the credit of conceiving the idea of wearing a glove on the infield. In those days none of the infielders or outfielders wore a glove. In fact, about that time the idea of putting several leather fingers, one over the other, on the catcher's glove had just been figured out. This device led to the invention of the present day catcher's mitt. When Bierbauer started to play second base his left hand was naturally tender from wearing the large catcher's glove and to protect it he wore his big glove while playing second. Many were the brilliant blocks and stops he made with the glove. It probably led other players to adopt a smaller glove and this finally resulted in the manufacture of the present day fielder's glove.

The practice of wearing gloves soon became common with all players and it also resulted in teaching players to use the left hand, if they were right-handed. In catching the ball so that today all players use the glove hand in grabbing a wild throw where the old players were compelled to grab them with a bare hand. A few years after the use of gloves became common a rule was passed limiting the size of the first baseman's mitt. This was because so many players were using the regulation catcher's mitt to play at first. However, the size even of the catcher's mitt has been reduced in recent years. Catchers have become adept at trapping the ball in the mitt with the right hand and also of avoiding the force of the impact so that to watch a good catcher work is a pleasure and looks easy even with the speediest of pitching.

We saw Dick Kinsella in Springfield the other day. Kinsella has been scout for the New York Giants for several years and has picked up some good men for McGraw. We asked Dick what he thought about the organizing of a new league. Evidently Dick does not think well of it for he said, "Better keep out of it for a year or two. There is no doubt but that Kinsella is pretty close to the baseball pulse and when he gives advice of that character it is well to heed it."

The success of raising money for the enlargement of the golf links at Nichols demonstrates that golf is a popular pastime in Jacksonville. Time was when golf was looked upon with contempt by many men as an old man's game. It also was regarded as a rich man's game. Both of these ideas have been exploded. Those who looked upon the game as easy have found that while it is a strenuous game it requires considerable skill to play. The growth of public parks and play grounds, and the desire of people to live more out of doors has resulted in the building of public links in most of the parks throughout the country. Men of small means could not afford to become members of country clubs. Now these men do not need to have an outlay of a hundred dollars or more for a membership in some club with additional dues and expense for social functions. Another idea that has been given up is that a man needs a big bag full of clubs to play the game. Many of the best golfers in Jacksonville now go to the park with three clubs—some take only two. But any man can get along with three and have all the fun he wants and get what he goes after—exercise.

The purchase of Benny Kauf by the Giants was reported the past week. It is said that Kauf will cost the Giants $20,000. If Kauf lives up to his Federal league reputation he will be worth that much and more. However, he has shown in the past that he is a hard man to manage. He won't get far with foolishness under McGraw's management. Magee was sold to the New York Americans for something over $20,000. Many people are of the opinion that Magee is a more valuable man than Kauf. We have never seen Kauf in action. We have seen Magee. He is a player of the fighting type and is comparatively young. If we had our choice we believe we would take him in preference to Kauf and pay more for him.

George Brown, Greek middle-weight of Chicago, fought a twenty round bout with Darcy, the Australia sensation, the other night. Darcy had already defeated McGorty and Jimmy Clabby and it looked like he would have a cinch with Brown, who was never regarded as anything but a second rater in this country. Evidently Brown has improved. McGorty and Clabby have gone back or else Darcy has been overrated. Brown more than held his own and the spectators hissed when the decision was given to Darcy by the referee. He surely must have had more than an even break when an English crowd would show disapproval.

It seems that this same Darcy is likely to be lost to the ring. Several efforts have been made to get him to come to this country to meet Mike Gibbons, but all were unsuccessful. Recently, however, he has been talking of coming. Now we hear that he may not be allowed to leave the country but will be drafted into the army. That has been the fate of most all of the fighters of England and France and the wrestlers of other European countries now at war.

Speaking of the war and fighters, we learn that Freddy Welsh, Matt Wells, Ted Lewis and several other English fighters now in this country are in bad odor in their native land because they do not go home and enlist in the British army. Perish the thought, so far as Welsh is concerned. Freddy won't even fight anybody, who can fight, with his fists. It is a clutch that he is not going to take a chance with bullets, because he can't outrun them.

Luke McLuke Says:
A man wants to live as long as he can, no matter how he looks. But a woman wants to dye before she gets old.

It takes a course in the school of experience to show a man how much he does not know.

The man who is so busy making money that he hasn't time to make friends doesn't get much fun out of life.

Maybe a woman likes to call her husband "dear" in public because she knows it makes him feel cheap.

A woman's idea of a gossip is a dame who tells a secret before the woman has a chance to tell it herself.

Make up a list of the men to whom you owe money and you will have a list of the men with the best memories in the world.

Father is always bragging what a great scholar he was when he went to school and how much harder the lessons were when he was a boy than they are today. And then one of the children who is in the fourth grade will ask father about ten questions relating to his studies, and father will say, "Run away and don't bother me—can't you see I'm busy?" because father can't answer one of the questions.

When a woman hasn't anything else to do she can have a fine time scaring up a lot of troubles that will never happen.

This is a cold, calculating, practical world. A dollar's worth of pennies in your pocket will get you more than a billion dollars' worth of great ancestors on your family tree.

The old order changeth. It is no longer necessary to wear your hair down to your shoulders to be considered a genius.

—And the ear could not tell the difference!

Christine Miller, the famous concert contralto, recently made a tour of the country singing with the New Edison Diamond Disc. Everywhere people were held spellbound by this daring test of tone re-creation, the ear could not distinguish the original from Edison's re-creation of it.

THE EDISON DIAMOND DISC PHONOGRAPH

Only Mr. Edison's perfected musical instrument could withstand such a test. No mere mechanical reproduction, but the re-creation of the original tone. The actual artist in all her artistry. A test which Edison's re-creation of any artist's voice or instrumental performance will sustain in actual comparison with the artist standing beside Edison's new instrument.

LAND O'NOD STORIES

Altho the plain surrounding the ant hill was already black with winged ants, young princesses and their maids, starting out on their wedding journey, ever increasing numbers of excited insects continued to pour from the city gates until it seemed to Billy Be By Bo Bam that the inside of the earth must be one vast ant hill which now was pouring out its entire population. Faster and faster they came, arising from the gates. In dense swarms that swirled and eddied about Billy's head like a living cloud, a cloud that buzzed and hummed with the rustle of innumerable wings.

Then Billy saw that the same thing was going on in the next field where another big ant hill reared its crest above the tangle of the grass forest. Farther on there was another ant city, and this, too, was pouring out its countless thousands of winged males and young queens.

"Did the inhabitants of all these different cities arrange before hand to start their wedding journeys today so they could all go together?" asked Billy Be By Bo Bam.

"No, sir, they did not," replied Tinker Teedle Tee. "There is never any communication between the different cities, and the inhabitants of one colony never have anything to do with their neighbors, except when they go to war with each other."

"Then how does it happen that they are all starting on their wedding journey at the same time?" demanded Billy.

"How do you know when it is time to spin tops or that kite flying time has arrived?" retorted the elf. "Does anyone tell you when marriage season opens?"

"Of course not," replied Billy.

"Then how do you know when the different seasons open?"

"Well, one boy will start spinning his top and that reminds the others. So each fellow goes out his top and the next day every one is spinning tops."

"It is the same way with the ants," replied Tinker. "The inhabitants of one city will start on the marriage night and their neighbors, seeing what is going on, catch the excitement and make up their minds it is time for them to do the same thing. The result is that when one flight starts, several others generally join it and start off in one big swarm."

A stiff breeze was now blowing, and as the ants arose from the various hills they drifted with the wind until they were united in one vast swarm that darkened the sky like thunder clouds.

Flying before the wind, the ants drifted farther and farther from their home cities, until at last Billy and Tinker found themselves alone on the plain except for the worker ants, who now seemed to have forgotten their royal brothers and sisters and had turned their attention to closing up the openings made in the sides of the hill to help along the exit.

Before night every one of these young queens will have come to earth and after pulling off her wings with her feet, started the work of building a home city of her own," said Tinker Teedle Tee as the swarm disappeared in a clump of trees. "But I can't help feeling sorry for their poor maids, for by this time tomorrow or the day after at the very latest, no a male will be left alive. Their one mission in life is to marry the young queens, and when they have fulfilled their mission old Mother Nature has no further use for them. One by one they will drop out of the swarm and fall to the ground, where they will fall easy victims to the birds and insects that prey on ants. Even if they escape this fate, they will perish of cold and hunger, for they do not know how to forage for themselves, but have always depended on others to feed them."

"That certainly does not seem a shame," said Billy Be By Bo Bam. "So many thousands of ants born only to die after one short day of liberty."

"Yes, it does seem too bad," agreed Tinker Teedle Tee. "But you must remember, Billy Boy, that after they have married the princesses they are of no further use in the world. If they lived, the worker ants would have to support them, and what with caring for the thousands of baby ants and providing food for the unmarried maids and females, it would be too great a task for even the industrious little workers. Then it wouldn't be any time at all before the city became so overcrowded that there wouldn't be room enough to turn around. So on the whole, Mother Nature has taken the wisest course, as she always does, in dooming the males to death as soon as they have fulfilled their life mission."

"Oh, look, Tinker, what are those ants doing?" cried Billy, pointing to a group of workers who were dragging a princess, who had already pulled off her wings, back toward the city gate.

"They are taking her back to help the queen mother," replied the elf. "You see, Billy Boy, the regent queen is getting old and is not able to lay enough eggs to keep the city supplied with workers. So her children, who are always thinking of the future welfare of their city, adopt one of their married sisters and bring her back home where she is installed as an auxiliary queen and helps her mother lay eggs."

"How does the old queen like that arrangement?" asked Billy. "I should think she would object to dividing the honor with another, even one of her own children."

"Oh, they get along fine together," replied the elf. "In fact, the mother is glad of the help, for then she doesn't have to work so hard. Now with bees it is different, for the Bee Queen is the most jealous person alive. If the workers dared bring a young queen into the hive the Royal Mother would fly into a rage and attack the intruder and sting her to death."

But this story has already run too long, so you will have to wait until next week to hear about how the ants went to war.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE

(By The Associated Press.)

Shanghai, January—Many German newspapers have been established in China since the beginning of the European war. Most of these are weeklies, some are semi-weekly and the War published at Shanghai is a tri-weekly. These papers publish the full German official despatches, usually both in German and English and also publish much editorial in English.

Early in the war, these German papers confined themselves in English papers confined themselves very largely to the denunciation of the British but recently Americans in China have come in for much criticism, and practically all the German newspapers are commenting extensively on the attitude of the Americans in the Far East.

In a recent issue The War contains the following article under the heading: "American Neutrality": "We again refer to the only way for Americans to be neutral and that is, to be in league with everything British, and avoid being seen with a German."

At the last meeting of Dr. Richard's Christian Literature Society we hear that the Americans were present in good numbers, another Anglo-American society. This proves that the Americans are neutral. We might ask, if the German Medical School held a meeting, would Americans have the courage to attend, and would this prove that they were neutral or unneutral?

"Dr. Richard's speech in the interests of peace hinted very clearly that the group of powers, of which Germany is one, stands for oppression, and England's group stands for defense of those oppressed. This in-situation proves also how neutral this society is, a society which once claimed Dr. Ernest Rader and Pastor Kraus.

And if the oppressed are to look to us we would like to ask whether it is the idea of censuring the oppressed that has chance England, so own so much of the earth's soil. And if the oppressed are to look to England for protection, why does she not at once occupy Russia?"

A leading editorial in The War, Russia and to England, begins: "There is a particular reason why the Americans do not regard the German cause favorably. It may be found in her failure to appreciate gradual development of the present situation. And so the effect is taken for the cause. Germany's former relation to England and to Russia are frequently misunderstood."

Americans and the American attitude towards the war are constantly mentioned, specifically, and indirectly hinted at in articles appearing in practically all the German publications in the Far East. Some of the papers spare American residents of the Orient direct criticism, making their attack in a general way on the attitude of the American government.

The German papers are commenting extensively on the failure of the Belgian government to win any recent recognition from its allies, and the fact that Belgium was not admitted to the European group which joined with Japan in urging China to postpone its change of government. The War says: "Oh, let us have but rarely heard of Belgium, of the Belgian king and his army. Merged into the vast military establishment of the allies, the little strip of country which he still calls his own, his small and of faithful followers and he himself have lost their political identity. No special importance attaches to them any more, Belgium seems to have lost its attraction which it had at the beginning as a war slogan. It has served the purpose of detracting people's attention from the real issue and the cause of the war at the beginning and, as these real issues have gradually been projected to the foreground and have become paramount, Belgium is now of little consequence to the Entente powers, and at best a side issue to be dealt with incidentally, if occasion arises. The voluminous war reports of the allies do not mention Belgium's little army any more, altho no doubt they have their daily fight just like the rest of them. The King of England recently visited France, but we have not heard brother king in Flanders. The Belgian government remained silent when lately the other allies proclaimed anew their intention to stand together to the last."

The same editorial then reviews at length what Germany has done in Belgium, and says that under the direction of German officers all tillable land has been bought under cultivation, and the Belgian industries have been revived with a better wage sale than before the war. "Most important of all," the editorial continues, "the Germans have sent all Belgian children to schools."

POLICE BUSY YESTERDAY.

The police forces were kept busy yesterday making arrests. Myrtle Salles was arrested and sent to jail for sixty days by Justice Dyer on the charge of vagrancy.

John Caldwell, colored, was arrested on the charge of assault and battery, the complaining witness being Mrs. Salles. He was held in lieu of $100 for his appearance at the May term of the circuit court.

Willie Bruner, alias "Turkey," was arrested on the charge of carrying concealed weapons by Plain Clothes Officer White. He was before Dyer and was fined $100 and costs, in default of which he went to jail. Both parties are colored.

Virgil Kuechler, also colored, was arrested and placed under a peace bond by Justice Dyer for three months. The complaining witness was Mrs. Kuechler.

Howard Finley, colored, was arrested late Saturday afternoon on the charge of threatening his wife. He was placed under bond by Justice Dyer.

J. Steinmetz of Woodson was among the visitors in the city yesterday.

REVIEW OF YEAR'S WORK AT PASSAVANT HOSPITAL

Interesting and Instructive Reports of Head of Training School and Superintendent, Miss Ida B. Venner.

Passavant hospital is especially fortunate in having Miss Ida B. Venner a capable head of the training school and superintendent of the hospital. Miss Venner is devoted to the hospital and is peculiarly fitted and qualified for the work she is doing and it is a matter of pride that with all the expenses of repairs incident to an old inadequate building and the maintenance of a first class institution the enterprise ends the year without a debt.

Following are Miss Venner's reports first of the training school and second as superintendent.

Passavant Memorial Hospital. Minutes of annual meeting January 20, 1916: To the Board of Trustees, Passavant Memorial Hospital: Gentlemen:

At present there are 20 pupils and 3 graduate nurses beside the superintendent who are regular members of the school; one graduate nurse for night duty having been added to the regular staff during the year. The increase in work necessitated more supervision at night than those on day duty were able to give and this with the expressed opinion of the public in favor of a graduate on duty made it advisable.

During 1915, 52 admission blanks have been requested, 20 returned; 3 applicants have been accepted for the regular 3 year course and 2 from a special 2 year school for the third year work, and 2 others are to enter the 1916 class.

The school was visited by the state inspector in October, and retains its place on the list of accredited schools for another year. The State Board of Examiners, however, recommend the establishing of a children's ward, that our nurses may receive sufficient instruction in their own hospital under qualified instructors rather than having to supplement the work they get here by one the amount required by the State School for the Deaf in order to get the amount required by the State Board.

Through the kindness of Dr. Hill of the Jacksonville State Hospital and Dr. Zeller, alienist, State Board of Administration, we are also allowed the privilege of sending our nurses to the Jacksonville State Hospital for one month's experience in hydrotherapeutics and the nursing of mental and nervous patients. The lectures on this work were given to our nurses by Dr. Foley of the Jacksonville State Hospital and we wish to express our gratitude to him and to the physicians of our own staff who have so cheerfully given their services in the lecture course, for without them the schedule would be very incomplete.

There has been some sickness among the nurses during the year most of the illness being of short duration, except that three had to be operated and one was ill with typhoid fever and pneumonia, but all have made good recoveries.

The graduating exercises were held at the hospital June 17th when six nurses received diplomas. All have since successfully passed the examination of the State Board of Examiners for Registered Nurses and are entitled to the use of the R.

N. The graduates now number 50 and a class of six will graduate in the spring.

We regret the loss of one of our graduates, Mrs. Harvey Mack, of Carrollton, Ill. (Ella McAllister, class of 1908), who died in Jacksonville, November, 1915, after an operation and several weeks' illness. Two of our graduates have married during the year, Miss Lora Rankin, class 1911, now Mrs. Oscar Milburn, of Rockford, Ill. and Miss Beulah Hart, class 1912, now Mrs. Elmer German of Bloomington, Ill.

In closing I wish to thank every one who has been interested in the welfare of the training school, especially the members of the staff who have so cheerfully helped us in times of illness, the dean, medical board, the assistants, and the graduates who have been most loyal to the hospital and school.

Superintendent of Nurses, Passavant Memorial Hospital. Minutes of annual meeting, January 20, 1916:

To the Board of Trustees of Passavant Memorial Hospital: Gentlemen:

Your superintendent would respectfully submit the following report for the year 1915:

The year's work shows that 777 patients were treated, receiving 11,230 days of hospital treatment, an increase over the previous year of 99 in the number of patients admitted, and of 1047 in number of days of nursing care. The increase would have been still greater, but in February and March we were unable to give suitable accommodation to several very sick or aged patients for whom the doctors sought admission, the all available space in the old nurses' quarters had been fitted up, one large room being curtained off to accommodate six patients.

Over nineteen hundred dollars has been spent on improvements and repairs. This has included the fitting up of the room above the chapel for pathological laboratory and specimen room, the renovating of old nurses quarters on third floor, the painting of operating and anaesthetic rooms, first and third floors; renovating eleven patients' rooms, painting two linen and supply rooms, general kitchen and pantries, dining room and food elevator, turning small room between food elevator and second floor diet kitchen into the diet kitchen and making direct communication with food elevator shaft; new cables for electric elevator; building screened porch over kitchen door; painting chicken houses and barns; building laundry car, making twenty three new full-sized window screens; renovating dressing sterilizer and installing new gas range in diet kitchen; the paying of $450 on boiler installed September, 1914; besides remodeling old X-Ray room for additional microscopic apparatus and fitting up adjoining room for X-Ray treatment room and accommodation of viewing boxes; the additional X-Ray apparatus costing about $1400, the earnings of the machine being kept in a special fund for paying the note by which necessary amount was raised.

A heater gas-apparatus for the administering of anesthetics was procured for the hospital by one of the staff at cost of $356, the money being advanced by one of the doctors till paid for by the earnings of the machine.

Our boiler has given very satisfactory service; two sections of our water heater have had to be renewed.

The sending of our laundry to an outside laundry as we are still doing has by no means solved all the problems in that department, and our needs in sterilizing equipment, filtered water, better accommodations for patients, more rooms, better equipment in operating rooms, service rooms, bath rooms, more dining room space, a modern kitchen with storage rooms, when more than the daily supply can be taken care of, are only a small part of the many needs and disadvantages which are present and can only be satisfactorily met by a modern building with modern equipment, and I trust a persistent effort will be continued till the full $100,000 amount has been raised for the much needed new building.

The hospital has suffered a severe loss in the death of its president, Mr. John R. Lear, who was so greatly interested in the hospital from the time of its early beginning and who gave so freely of his time and personal supervision in the furthering of its interests, and whose frequent visits and council are greatly missed.

The hospital aid ladies have been even more energetic and loyal in their support of the hospital and its interests and we are grateful to them and to the other societies who have done sewing and giving time to the hospital, and to the many other friends who have in any way helped forward the work of the hospital.

DESPAIRING WOMAN Now Happy Mother

Mrs. Stephens Did Not Need
The Surgical Operation.

Patoka, Ill.—"I had been married five years and my greatest desire was to become a mother. The doctor said I never would have a child unless I was operated on for female troubles and I had given up all hopes when a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly for some time, and I am in better health than ever, and have a healthy baby girl. I praise your Vegetable Compound for my baby and my better health. I want all suffering women to know that it is the sure road to health and happiness."—Mrs. GEORGE STEPHENS, R. F. D. No. 3, Patoka, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming women's ills because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

THREE ROADS MAY USE C. & A. PASSENGER STATION HERE

Supt. Ustick of the Burlington Indicates Plan is Still Under Consideration With Favorable Result Likely.

Superintendent F. H. Ustick of the C. & A. Q., who was in Jacksonville Friday, said that the proposition for a union station used by at least the Burlington and the Chicago & Alton, is very much alive. Mr. Ustick recently had a conference with the general superintendent of the Chicago & Alton, with the idea in mind of having the Alton station used in common by the C. & A., Burlington and probably the C. P. & St. L. The station is so located that not much change in track arrangements would be necessary. Because of the increased number of passengers using it, it might be necessary to enlarge the present Alton station, but the ground space is such that this could easily be accomplished.

The accommodations in the present Burlington station are not now equal to the patronage and it very frequently happens that passengers must stand on the platform because the waiting room is full. This is particularly true if the south bound afternoon train happens to be late and it thus becomes necessary for both C. P. & St. L. and Burlington passengers to be cared for in the waiting room at the same time.

Mr. Ustick said that if the union depot plan is carried out, as he hopes will be the case, that the present Burlington station will be removed and track changes made which will increase the local yardage space.

Mr. Ustick commented on the fact that the Burlington is using a remodeled frame residence for a passenger station and the Chicago & Alton is using a remodeled brick residence for freight purposes. His view is that a station arrangement with the Chicago & Alton would make possible the enlargement of the Burlington freight yard and would also improve the general appearance of the railroad territory by removal of the Burlington station from its present location.

Amazing but Rarely Suspected Truths About the Things You Eat.

(Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

Chapter 9

The apparent cause of the little girl's death was pneumonia. The real cause was malnutrition, low resistance, insidious starvation.

The little girl who had been sick from "cavorting" liked bread or biscuits deluged with "table syrup" for lunch. Her mother did not know what life sustaining substances had been removed from the bread and the biscuits or what had been taken out of the cornstarch that produced the syrup.

She liked strawberry jam or some other fruit jam from the grocery store, with its 10 per cent of fruit and its 10 per cent of apple juice, made from the sulphurated salts and cores of the dried apple industry, with its 70 per cent of glucose, sweetened with 10 per cent of sugar phosphoric acid to supply the jellifying quality, and preserved with one-tenth of 1 per cent benzoate of soda to prevent the mass from fermenting. You do not think such jam exists. I shall prove to you that more than 60 per cent of all the jam consumed is exactly like this.

She liked the bright strawberry hue of the Swedish stuff, which had been supplied by the legal use of a dye known as amarant. Only one-tenth of 1 per cent of benzoate of soda was declared in fine print on the label, and her mother had never noticed even that. The presence of as much as four more tenths of benzoate of soda in many food products was determined by the commissioner of agriculture of the State of Georgia. The facts were reported thru the state chemist in Serial No. 56. I have found much more than four-tenths in many foods.

The little girl's doctor did not know this. Besides, he was not worried by the presence of a little benzoate in her jam.

She was also fond of pickles, hardened in a bath of alum. Her father and mother had not been taught the chemistry of food in the schools nor the relationship which refined food or jugged food or drugged food might some day bear to their anemic child.

But we must not go too fast. The evening meal was quite suited to the father's needs. It consisted of chops, or pot roast, or sausages, or baked beans, and ham with vegetables of the season, fresh, or vegetables of some other season, canned, and a bakery-made pie or a home-made pudding.

It was the average American meal, and it is the average meal with which we are concerned.

During the afternoon a confectionery store down the street received many of the pennies of the little girl. It had existence for the purpose of attracting those pennies. There are just 20,000,000 such pennies spent each day in the United States by school children, according to the roughest estimate that can be made by consulting the candy industry.

So she feasted between meals on dyed glucose purchased at the candy store. She had been always of a delicate type anemic and nervous. At different times she had been treated by the family physician for tonsillitis, acute chorea, and anemia.

At the age of six she underwent an operation for adenoids. In the United State at the same time there were more than 20,000 such operations among children. She had taken a tonic of "iron and manganese."

At other times tonics of strychnine were prescribed and on two occasions she was given bichloride of mercury and chloride of arsenic.

Her teeth, like those of other millions of children, were decayed. At times mother said, "I wonder if we feed Helen properly," but Aunt Jennie always answered, "Her ills are natural to childhood and are to be expected. She will outgrow them."

The neighbors told her that the less attention she paid to her child's food the better, because people who were always worrying about food had the toughest luck. Here and there a plump child was pointed out to her as a model of what eating "anything and everything" would produce.

It was not known that water-logged tissues are frequently mistaken for plumpness.

It was not known that the plump child's plumpness had nothing to do with muscle tone; nothing to do with normal functioning; nothing to do with vitality or resistance to disease.

It was not known that the plump child, "fed on anything and everything," succumbs even more quickly than the thin child. But grandmothers and mothers had fed children for ages, and surely they must know a little about their business, so the little girl's mother felt that, as they said, the child would eventually outgrow her poor health. She "just wasn't strong," but "would get strong." It was a comfortable thought.

A few weeks after the little party, as Helen was going home from school, she was caught in a rain-storm. Her mother changed her clothes as soon as she arrived home and gave her hot lemonade. That night she had a high fever, and again the doctor was called.

When he came he uttered one word, "Pneumonia." That father and mother, in the year of our Lord, 1915, stricken into despair and darkness, in the very midst of their tenderest, brightest, and sweetest hopes, faced the same unutterable emptiness of life that nearly 400,000 other fathers and mothers in the same year faced.

In the United States, in the year 1915, the census director at Washington issued mortality statistics for 1913 revealing for that year the fact that 376,679 little children under ten years of age went into the great beyond to give testimony to the darkness of earth.

Such are the facts. They will never be disputed. That they are shocking is not to be denied, but it is that shock which must sooner or later be acted upon by this nation if this nation is to do its duty by the child.

The apparent cause of the little girl's death was pneumonia. The real cause was malnutrition, low resistance, insidious starvation.

We are now almost ready to begin our study of the facts.

A WOMAN'S OPINION.

It Went on Record as a Decision of the Supreme Court.

"All the justices of the supreme court wear gowns of black silk," says Francis E. Leupp in "Walks About Washington." "John Jay, the first chief justice, relieved the somber monotony of his by adding a collar bound with scarlet, but the precedent was not followed. The court has sometimes been styled the most dignified judicial tribunal in the world, and doubtless it deserves the compliment."

"The arguments made before it are confined to calm, unemotional reasoning. The pleaders do not raise their voices or forget their manners or indulge in personalities or oratory while debating, and the opinions of the court are recited with a quietness almost conversational. These opinions are very carefully guarded up to the moment they are read from the bench, but now and then, after a decision has become history, there leaks out an entertaining story of how it came to be rendered."

"Such an instance was in the case of an imported delicacy which might have been classed either as a preparation of fish or as a flavoring sauce. The customs officers had levied duty on it as a sauce, and an importer had appealed. The justices, when they came to compare notes, confessed themselves sorely puzzled, and one of them suggested that since the technical arguments were so well balanced it might be wise to fall back upon common sense. That evening he carried a sample of the disputed substance home to his wife, who was an expert in culinary matters."

"There, my dear," said he, "is a sauce for you to try."

"With one look at the contents of the package, which she evidently recognized, she exclaimed: 'Pshaw! That's no sauce; that's fish. Didn't you know it?'"

"The next day the court met again for consultation and on the following Monday handed down a decision overruling the customs officers and sustaining the importer's appeal."

GLYCERIN IS PECULIAR.

From a Chemical Standpoint It Has Many Curious Qualities.

One of the great advantages of glycerin in its chemical employment is the fact that it will neither freeze nor evaporate under any ordinary temperature.

No perceptible loss by evaporation has been detected at a temperature less than 200 degrees F., but if heated intensely it decomposes with a smell that few persons find themselves able to endure. It burns with a pale flame, similar to that from alcohol, if heated to about 300 degrees and then ignited. Its nonevaporative qualities make the compound of much use as a vehicle for holding pigments and colors, as in stamping and typewriter ribbons, carbon papers and the like.

If the pure glycerin be exposed for a long time to a freezing temperature it crystallizes with the appearance of sugar candy; but, these crystals being once melted, it is almost an impossibility to get them again into the congelated state. If a little water be added to the glycerin no crystallization will take place, though under a sufficient degree of cold the water will separate and form crystals, amid which the glycerin will remain in its natural state of fluidity.

If suddenly subjected to intense cold pure glycerin will form a gummy mass which cannot be entirely hardened or crystallized. Altogether it is quite a peculiar substance.

Gunpowder as Medicine.

The use of gunpowder as medicine was very widely advocated in the eighteenth century and, either taken inwardly or applied externally, was held to be a specific against rheumatism and ague. In the "Complait Housewife or Accomplished Gentlewoman's Companion," a domestic pharmacopoeia, published in 1742, appears the following remedy for rheumatism: "Let the party take of the finest glazed gunpowder as much as a large thimble may hold; wet it in a spoon with milk from the cow and drink a good half pint of warm milk after it; be covered warm in bed and sweat; give it fasting about 7 in the morning and take this nine or ten mornings together."—London Express.

A Nation's Heroes.

Generally the heroes of a nation's history are not those who have benefited mankind, but those who have injured other nations. If we pride ourselves upon the good and not the harm that we have done we should have put Shakespeare on the Nelson monument and given Aspley House to Darwin. But the citizens whom every nation honors most are those who have killed the greatest number of foreigners.—Atlantic.

Sacred Elephants.

A white elephant is regarded sacred in Siam, and when one dies it has a funeral grander than that accorded to princes. Buddhist priests officiate, and thousands of devout Siamese men and women follow the deceased animal to the grave. Jewels and offerings representing much wealth are buried with the elephant.

The Danger.

"I am half afraid to try this new scalp tonic."

"Why are you afraid?"

"It is really a hair raising experiment, you know."—Baltimore American.

Naturally.

"A fellow doesn't have to be rich to enjoy life."

"No, he doesn't have to be, but the chances are that he prefers to be."—Detroit Free Press.

MAVERICKS

We've heard a lot in recent years about the horseless age. In future years it now appears horse steaks will be the rage.

Anyway a horse roast with horse radish might not be so bad.

We note that a moving picture star is advertised as "Satan's Soul Mate". We wonder if it is just a figure of speech or a reality?

Many a sport who has been going to the theater by himself for several years will now take advantage of all the dances and other leap year functions given by the girls.

Doc Zeller says that clay modeling is a good insanity cure. Have you got your supply of clay yet?

Wednesday the Associated Press sent out a story that a hog culling contest would be held in Texas. The esteemed Globe Democrat carried the story on its front page Thursday morning and referred to it as a "hog calling contest."

Warren Luttrell in the Franklin Times says:

"Lots of men who can afford 50c a week for chewing tobacco and cigars are so hard up they can't spend 3c a week for the home paper."

Right was Warren, and most of them borrow the home paper from their neighbor and subscribe for a Chicago or St. Louis paper.

President Wilson seems to be in serious straits in his preparedness program. The leaders of his own party are against him and the necessity has become so great that the president is contemplating a speaking tour of the country to vindicate himself. Truly the president is in a bad fix for a man who expects to run for re-election next fall.

We have seen lots of poetry but we must confess that we are not familiar with the Pseudo Brand.

Some Grip.

Mark Drury has had an attack of the current malady, grip. Was quite ill and his father in trying to do his feeding for him was injured in his lame knee.—Carlinville Democrat.

Pseudo poetry may not soothe, The tastes of those esthetic But those who write it Get the dough by being energetic.

Speaking of "simp" spelling why not spell, cough, cough; tough, tuff; enough, enuff.

Billy Bryan better hurry up and get to The Hague before some steel magnate gets there and gets a large order for munitions from the Ford peace party.

We learn that President Wilson was opposed to the exclusion of Mrs. Pankhurst from this country. Some people probably will be unkind enough to intimate that it was Mrs. Wilson and not the president who did the opposing.

We wonder if somebody punctured Mayor Woodruff's gubernatorial boom. Nothing has been heard of it since he issued his famous reply on the Sunday closing of Peoria saloons.

There seems to be lots of agitation about the eating of horse meat. We believe we would prefer horse meat, or almost any other kind, to some of that shipped out by the big packing houses. It surely couldn't be any tougher.

Onions are said to be a cure for lagrippe. Some people would almost as soon have the disease as to take the cure.

Brevity is the Soul of Wit.

E. T. Strubinger lost a fine Aberdeen-Angus cow of the Queen Mother strain. Died the first of last week. Was over ten years old, had never missed raising a fine calf on any one year. A $1,000 cow.—Barry Adage.

It would seem that about the only claim to fame that Congressman E. Meyer London has is that he is the only socialist member of that body. Aside from that he spends most of his time criticizing all of the other parties. Mr. London must be a relative of Jack London, the novelist. Jack London has written some great books. People admired his writing and thru it they admired Mr. London until he burst forth as an advocate of free love and other things equally distasteful to the present standards of society. Jack London by his utterances on things moral and otherwise got himself in bad with the public generally. It looks as tho E. Meyer London, congressman, is going to do the same thing in public life.

JEWS OF MIDDLE

WEST ORGANIZE Chicago, Jan. 22.—A conference of Jewish organizations of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin will be held here tomorrow for the purpose of discussing the world problems of the Jews and organizing a movement to be world-wide in extent, by which the race hopes to gain the recognition of the peace congress when it meets to settle the European war. The claims of all peoples, large and small, must form a part of the peace negotiations and the war settlement, and the Jewish leaders of the United States are preparing for the event.

AT CENTRALIA.

Another argument in favor of dry territory has just been presented by the report of city finances at Centralia. The record for the eight months without saloons shows an average monthly decrease in the city's expenses of $623.77.

Ice, the Winter Necessity

One-fourth as Much Is Used in Winter as in Summer Months—Distilled Water Ice Is Best

How many readers of the Journal have any conception of the amount of ice consumed by the residents of Jacksonville during the winter months? A great many perhaps have an idea that ice plants remain more or less dormant during this period and that but little is done by ice dealers except to wait until Jack Frost has completed his work so that some natural ice may be cut and stored.

The Citizens' Pure Ice company, of Jacksonville, started operations nearly two years ago, manufacturing from distilled water an absolutely pure ice. The company's daily capacity is about 150,000 pounds and during the warmer months it is all consumed. During the colder months the average consumption is about one-fourth the company's capacity, or something better than two pounds per day for every resident of our city.

Not every family uses ice during the winter months, and many families that do are not using absolutely pure ice. By many it is considered hard lines to be obliged to buy ice in summer and coal in winter, but when both have to be purchased in the same week it becomes doubly hard; but, ice has become a necessary commodity. It must be used in the preservation of food and it has its urgent place in the sick room. Therefore, as ice must be purchased in daily increasing quantities, the first point of consideration for the consumer is its purity. It is an established fact that freezing will not kill germ life, and that slowly melting natural ice releases to activity myriads of disease germs which, coming in contact with foods, milk, water, etc., become a real menace to health.

Pure ice, made from distilled water, such as is sold by the Citizens Pure Ice company, of Jacksonville, may be freely and safely used in any way desirable or necessary. Then, there is another point for consideration and that is the first cost. In the actual first cost there is no difference between pure manufactured ice and the natural ice, but the artificial ice being the more solid is much slower in melting and, therefore, more economical.

For Purity and Economy, make certain the ice furnished you is manufactured ice, made from pure distilled water.

The Rev. Dr. E. B. Landis, who is to preach in Westminster church this morning and evening, came in Saturday evening. It may have nothing to do with preaching, but Dr. Landis belongs to the family connection of Judge K. M. Landis, U. S. District Judge for the Northern District of Illinois.

The Cost of Living

In California is surprisingly moderate, and the cost of traveling to and from The Land of Sunshine and Flowers is extremely reasonable. You can save money and enjoy the trip through scenic Colorado and Salt Lake City in daylight, by joining one of the Burlingtons Personally Conducted Tourist Parties.

Money is much better spent keeping well than getting well. Come in and let's talk it over. My personal attention and the services of the road I represent are always at your disposal.

The business man who is too busy to look after his health and personal comfort needs a guardian.

To notice dandruff and falling hair is beneath his idea of business. Later when incurable baldness comes he will waste money trying to overcome the result of his own neglect. Some one at home should look after him. At first sight of dandruff—which is a contagious disease—Newbro's Herpicide should be used. It eradicates dandruff and stops falling hair by overcoming the dandruff contagion. A delightful hair dressing.

UNITED STATES SUBMARINE H-3 FOULS A MUD BANK

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 21.—The United States submarine H-3 fouled a mud bank in the harbor here today while rising to the surface from a run under water and despite the efforts of steamers summoned to the scene, was left high and dry when the tide went out.

The H-3 was running at a fast rate when it struck the mud bank and continued to slide for more than 100 feet.

The mishap was blamed by naval officers on the alleged failure of the lighthouse service to replace a lost buoy. Only five feet of the periscope showed above water when the vessel struck. As there was no beacon to tell where the edge of the deep water channel was Lieutenant William F. Newton, commanding the vessel, said he thought he had plenty of time to change his course after the H-3 rose to the surface. The monitor Cheyenne will attempt to drag the submarine into deep water tomorrow morning.

The H-3 is resting on soft mud and can be refloated at high tide tomorrow without difficulty, according to naval men tonight. An examination showed that the hull was not damaged.

EXPECT ADOPTION OF SCALE CALLING FOR TEN CENT INCREASE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 21.—It was learned here tonight from unusually well informed leaders in the United Mine Workers of America, which is now in biennial convention in this city, that those in control of the organization expect the convention to adopt a scale for the bituminous coal fields which will call for at least ten cents a ton increase in wages. There are resolutions before the scale committee for action which call for increases all the way from 5 to 20 cents, it was said. It is not expected that the committee will recommend a higher increase than ten. Two years ago the miners demanded an increase of five cents a ton and a ten per cent increase for day labor, yardage and dead work. The mine run basis of payment, check off and a uniform day labor are among other things that are expected to be in the report of the scale committee.

OFFERS LARGE SUM FOR BOUT.
New York, Jan. 21.—James Johnson, manager of Madison Square Garden, announced tonight an offer of $25,000 to Jess Willard and $20,000 to Frank Moran for a ten round boxing match here the latter part of March.

Edward Kliner of Woodson was among the business visitor in the city Saturday.

See your dentist twice yearly.
Use Senreco tooth paste.

Your dentist will tell you, if you ask him, that you have gum recession; and that gum recession is caused by pyorrhea.

Unchecked, pyorrhea will warp and shrink and deform the gums. It will break down the bony structure into which the teeth are set—and you will eventually lose them. To save your teeth you will have to begin to fight this dread disease at once.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your

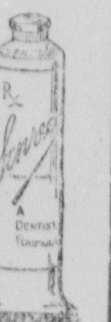

Tender Teeth—the first sign of Pyorrhea

When you brush your teeth, does it feel as though you were brushing against the quick? Do the gums sometimes bleed? This is because pyorrhea has caused the gums to pull away from your teeth, leaving the unenamelled surfaces unprotected.

teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Santal Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Listless Game Saturday Night Resulted in Score of 38 to 11—Harder Contests Promised in Other Scheduled Games.

Before a large crowd of basketball fans the Illinois college and Shurtleff college teams played a slow listless game last night, the home team winning 38 to 11. The visiting team was outclassed from start to finish and played slow basketball. Their team work, passing, and goal shooting were all poor. On top of the mediocre playing of the Shurtleff team there were other factors that helped to produce a game devoid of class basketball.

The Illinois team played Carthage College Friday night at Carthage in a rough and tumble contest. The Carthage players seemed willing to turn the game into football as they did not get enough of that game last fall. Then Saturday morning the Illinois players were compelled to leave their slumbers at half past four in order to catch a train. Add to this their feeling that Shurtleff would be easy prey and a grand mixture is secured which produces anything but fast, snappy, basketball.

This game finishes the easy games on the Illinois schedule and from now on the blue and white players will have their hands full. Next week Eastern Normal and Milledgeville are to be met on a trip.

Following is the summary of last night's near game:

MORGAN COUNTY TEACHERS
INSTITUTE IN SESSION

A Profitable Time Spent in Discussing Various Matters and Hearing Address by H. H. Vasconcellos.

An interesting and profitable meeting was held Saturday afternoon by the Morgan county teachers' association in the Jacksonville school building which witnessed a fine attendance of instructors from all over the county. Owing to the bad condition of the roads all had to come from a distance on the railroads and some were obliged to be late and some to leave early.

President T. P. Carter presided and Miss Gertrude Stainsforth, secretary, read the minutes of the preceding meeting and they were adopted.

Prof. Carter then spoke on the work of the association and said he was anxious that it should be as profitable and pleasant as possible. He outlined the work which had been adopted by the program committee and said much of the time would be occupied in the discussion of two books, one by William Hawley Smith, and entitled, "All the Children of all the People"; the other, "How to Teach Arithmetic."

County Superintendent H. H. Vasconcellos was then introduced and said he desired to be set right before the members of the association regarding his attitude toward the work of the society. He assured them that they had his hearty approval and co-operation. Regarding the subject assigned him, "Proposed Legislation," he said the last session of the state legislature had passed some desirable measures and some not so much so and there were twelve more which the instructors of the state wished to see on the statute books but as the topic would occupy too much time he would change it and speak on the Teachers' Pension Law and Manner of Its Working. He gave some valuable information regarding the statute and explained in what manner a teacher may be able to get the benefits of the measure.

Teachers who have served for twenty-five years are eligible for pensions if they have arrived at a state of disability for work. By paying in approximately $570, which represents a certain per cent of wages earned during their teaching years they will then be eligible for a pension of $400 a year for life. There are several teachers in Morgan county who have been in the work for more than twenty-five years.

Superintendent C. E. Collins of the city schools and Miss Agnes Lusk of the city force, had both been announced for the program but President Carter said Mr. Collins had been called to Chicago on important business and Miss Lusk was detained at the bedside of her mother who was very sick.

Attention was then directed to the discussion of Mr. Smith's book and one part taken was as follows: Chapters 1 and 2, "Born Short" and "Born Long," by Harrison M. Robertson of Chapin.

Chapter 3, "Some Comparisons and Conclusions," by Mrs. Edith Dunlap.

Chapter 4, "Nascitur non Fit," by Miss Edith Johnson.

Chapter 5, "How Can These Things Be?" by Miss Bessie G. Hart.

Chapter 6, "Some Cases in Point," by L. W. Ragland.

Chapters 7 and 8, "Under the Threshold" and "Some Darker Studies," by Miss Harriett E. Lander.

Chapters 9 and 10, "What Follows," and "Again the Body," by Mrs. Elizabeth Koch.

LONESOME MAX IS A WORLD WIDE "FAVELER"

Unique Character Is a Visitor in Jacksonville—Is Carving His Way to Fame.

W. T. McCleary, known as "Lonesome Max," blew into town Saturday. "Lonesome Max" is now a national character as he has been traveling over the country since the world's fair in Chicago in 1893. That is a long time ago, reader, and it may bring to your mind that Lonesome Max is getting along in years.

McCleary is tall and lean and wears buttons on his coats cut from peach and cherry seeds. These buttons are all his own handiwork. Max made the Jacksonville call Saturday and paid his respects and left a few clippings.

The wanderer has a life story that reads like a dime novel. He says he lost his mother a number of years ago. They were pals and her death hit him hard. He got lonesome and to stave off his grief and the blues he began to whittle. Since that time he whittles whenever he feels the blues coming over him.

During the interval since the world's fair in Chicago he has carved figures innumerable, all with a pocket knife. He has made figures in bas relief, whatever that is, and has done other things in the whittling line that have excited the admiration of the public. One thing Max did was to carve chickens on poker chips. For those who are initiated and don't know what a poker chip is we will let forth the dark secret. A poker chip is made of ivory or celluloid. Usually celluloid. They are used to play the great American game known as poker. When you see a bunch of men gathered around a table with cards in their hands intent on the game and a stack of round disks in the middle of the table, you can guess it is a poker game. The man who has so many in front of him he can't look over them is the man who is winning the money.

But to get back to Max. He says that he has some very valuable carvings but will not sell them. One carving he has is of the man of Galilee. Max has nothing to sell and asks for nothing. He is a life member of the Loyal Order of Moose and says that he is traveling over the country just for fun.

McCleary says that he expects to write a book some time of his wanderings. In this book he expects to use the various press clippings he has received. It might make a better book than some we have been compelled to read.

There is something of the philosopher about McCleary. He says when you are lonesome whittle. It is good advice. We often wondered why so many corner loafers whittled up all of the boxes in front of the village grocery store. We know now, they were "jest lonesome!"

GOOD ROADS ORGANIZATION.
PLANNED FOR THIS SEASON

Purpose Is to Arouse Special Interest in Oiling Work Early, Meeting Will Be Called.

Along with the plans for the annual good roads dinner in February there comes the further announcement that an effort is under way to organize a good roads association in the county for the special purpose of creating an interest in oiling roads. It is proposed to have an early meeting for those interested in the good roads movement, representing the several precincts of the county, and later on to have a general mass meeting in order to arouse interest in this all important subject.

While it is stated that just at this time oiling roads are considered a matter of paramount concern, the proposed association will take an interest in all kinds of road improvement, not losing sight of permanent highway improvement. The matter of draining, dragging and grading will also be given attention. No committees have thus far been appointed but in the course of a few weeks some definite steps toward organization will be taken. Altogether 1916 is starting in with every appearance of being a good roads year in Morgan county. The county commissioners have already started their plans for oiling roads from Jacksonville to Chapin, the annual good roads dinner is to occur the last part of February, a good roads organization is planned, and late this summer the Burlington Way association will have the annual meeting in this city. This is one question about which there need be no fear of overdoing it for too much enthusiasm cannot be manifested or too much activity shown.

We have fifty trunks which we will close out at 65c on the dollar.

SEEK TO DRIVE THREE HUNDRED
SALOONS FROM EAST ST. LOUIS

Anti-Saloon League Has Tackled Big Job in Southern Illinois City—J. H. Danskin Leading Work.

The formation of a law enforcement league in East St. Louis a few weeks ago marked the beginning of an anti-saloon campaign. It was decided at a meeting of citizens there to have an election of the subject this spring. In order to come within the legal status it is necessary to secure 5,000 signatures within two weeks, and this work will be undertaken in the churches of the city to day.

J. H. Danskin, a representative of the anti-saloon league, will have special charge of the work, and while he realizes that the task before the anti-saloon people is huge, he believes that there is prospect of success. Mr. Danskin spent several months last summer working in East St. Louis in the interest of the anti-saloon cause. There are more than 200 saloons in that city and the fact that the population includes quite a large foreign element has a bearing in the anti-saloon agitation.

Don't overlook those big suit and overcoat values at $10, $15 and $17.50 at J. W. LANE'S, clothier.

An Important Trade
Announcement

NO WINTER CLEARANCE SALE

You have read in the daily press and magazines and been told of the advancing costs of all kinds of textile fabrics, due to the present war, which has made almost prohibitive the use of dyestuffs formerly obtained abroad.

This condition prevents us from obtaining duplicates of our present stock at former prices.

The wholesale markets were never as low in desirable merchandise and preclude the possibility of supplying the same values as obtainable now.

Our clearing sales have always been a clearance of the remaining stock of the seasons end and we will not substitute for our regular standard merchandise merely to have a sale as a great many sales are conducted.

Therefore we make the unusual announcement that we will have no winter clearing sale. We have not advanced in price any article of merchandise in our store, notwithstanding present worth and continued advance, nor will we do so until every effort of our purchasing organization is exhausted.
